

2012 Illinois Crop Management Conference

Dates Announced

URBANA, ILL.

The latest research information on crop production and management will be discussed at four regional University of Illinois Crop Management Conferences this winter. The two-day conferences address a wide array of topics pertinent to crop production, pest management, and natural resources issues and provide a forum for discussion and interaction between participants and university researchers.

Certified Crop Advisers can earn up to 13 hours of CEU credit. Advance registration (up to one week before each conference) is $130. Late and on-site registration is $150. Dates, locations, and persons to contact for more information are listed below. Conference agendas and online registration will be available in mid-December.
