

Annie's Project – Education For Farm Women

CAPE GIRARDEAU, MO.

Farming is a complex business and more farm women are becoming active business partners in their operations. Annie's Project is designed to empower farm women to be better business partners by teaching them to manage information systems used in critical decision making processes. The target audience is farm women with a passion for business and involvement.

Annie was a farm woman from Northern Illinois who spent her lifetime learning how to be an involved business partner with her farm husband. Annie's Project takes her life-experiences and shares it with farm women living and working in a complicated business. Participants will gain a better understanding of human resource issues, business plans, financial documentation, property titles, cash and crop share leases, marketing plans, retirement and estate planning and types of insurance. All participants will receive training on FAST Tools record keeping software.

Nearly 6,000 women from 15 states have graduated from Annie's Project and soon there will be a program near you. The program embraces all farm women regardless of farm size or type.

When: Tuesdays and Thursdays for three weeks (6 sessions) beginning Tuesday, March 9 through Thursday, March 25, 2010 from 6:00p.m. to 9:00p.m.

Where: Cape Girardeau County Extension Office, Lower Level

Please pre-register by calling Gerald Bryan at the Cape Girardeau County Extension Office at (573) 243-3581. Registration is $50 and includes a black zip notebook, calculator, thumb drive and FAST Tools record keeping software. For more information, please see the Annie's Project website at <http://www.extension.ias-tate.edu/Annie/>. Δ

Link Directly To: CASH RIVER

Link Directly To: SYNGENTA