

Arkansas Soybean Association Announces Seminar

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

The Arkansas Soybean Association has set Tuesday, January 22 as the date of their 44th Annual Business Session and Seminar. The informative seminar and business session will be held at the Convention Center in Brinkley with registration beginning at 8:30 a.m. and program at 9 a.m. It will conclude after lunch.

The program will include an explanation of basis, updates on the upcoming Farm Bill, the soybean checkoff, and information from the crushing industry. Speakers scheduled at this time are Scott Hardy of White Commercial; John Hoffman, President, American Soybean Association, Waterloo, Iowa; and Todd Allen, Executive Committee – United Soybean Board, West Memphis.

The Soybean Association will hold its 44th Annual Business Session of membership. During this meeting the winners of the 2007 Yield Challenge will be announced and the 2008 DuPont Young Leaders will be recognized. The 2007 CES Education Awards will also be awarded.

Agricultural business representatives will be present to answer your questions. New this year will be an auction during lunch to raise additional funds for lobbying and special projects.

Arkansas President Andrew Oliver said recently, "This is a busy time of year for all producers, and we have designed our meeting to meet the needs of our membership. We are providing information we feel is important to producers in a half day."

All are invited to attend and bring a friend. For more information, please contact the office at 1-800-247-8691 or swsoy@aristotle.net. Δ
