

Cache River Valley Seed Holds Field Day

Cache River Valley Seed Co. in Cache River, Ark., held a field day for dealers and farmers recently with about 400 present. Marty Eaton, general manager of Cache River Valley Seed, explained some of the highlights and said he was very pleased with the turnout. One soybean stop was to observe Halo, a Liberty Link soybean from Bayer. Halo is the new non-selective herbicide seed. Those on the tour also saw a plot of Clearfield 151 rice seed from Horizon Ag. Stops also were made to see plots of Clearfield 131 rice, Morsoy soybeans, Cache River's private line of Roundup Ready soybean; NK and Roundup soybean varieties. The visitors also viewed a University of Arkansas rice disease plot and RiceTec hybrid plots.

Photo by Jack Thompson

