

Drought Information Meeting For Livestock Producers

DR. TERESA STECKLER

SIMPSON, ILL.

Comparisons to 1988 are abound due to the lack of rain this spring and summer. Numerous questions have been fielded regarding alternative feedstuffs for livestock? So what must livestock producers take into consideration during times of drought?

These any many other questions will be answered on July 11 during a drought information meeting. The meeting will be held at the Franklin County Extension Office in Benton, IL at 7 p.m. This will be an informal meeting covering the topics of feeding stressed corn to cattle, crop insurance implications, cropping considerations, and dealing with damaged corn and soybeans.

For more information, please call 618-439-3178 or look under the "Find Events" link at <http://web.extension.illinois.edu/fjprw/>. Δ

DR. TERESA L. STECKLER: Extension Specialist, Commercial Agriculture, Dixon Springs Agricultural Center, University of Illinois