

New Extension Website On Manure Management

URBANA, ILL.

Small Farms Manure Management is a new website designed especially for livestock producers with operations having less than 300 animal units. It includes information about composting manure, environmental rules and regulations, pasture management, and manure land application.

Horse owners, stable owner and managers, and beef, dairy, sheep, poultry and swine operators will all find useful resources.

The site was created by Randy Fonner, Extension Specialist, Certified Livestock Manager Program; Ellen Phillips, Extension Educator, Crop Systems; and Ted Funk, Extension Specialist, Bioenvironmental Engineering.

The site is available under Agr & Natural Resources on Greene County Extension's website at <http://www.extension.uiuc.edu/greene/>. Δ
