

Nutrition Is Focus Of Tennessee Conference

LEBANON, TENN. The 2009 Tennessee Conference will bring up-to-date, research-based information presented by respected nutrition experts from around the country. Sessions are planned on nutrition of beef cattle, dairy cattle, horses and small ruminants. The date is Wednesday, March 5, 2009. The conference will be held at the James Ward Agricultural Center (Wilson County Fairgrounds) in Lebanon, Tennessee.

This will be the fourth nutrition conference. The previous conferences have been highly rated with attendance of approximately 150 people. The theme for the 2009 Tennessee Nutrition Conference is “Nutrition During Challenging Times.” This theme illustrates that nutrition is still very important even in times producers are financially challenged. Fundamentally sound nutrition is necessary for optimum production, reproduction and performance. This theme also relates to the educational efforts that will be conducted in association with the Tennessee Agricultural Enhancement program.

For more information on this program, go to HYPERLINK “http://www.state.tn.us/agriculture/enhancement/index.html” <http://www.state.tn.us/agriculture/enhancement/index.html>

The target audience is anyone whose career is related to feeding animals. This could be trainers or managers of horse operations, beef producers, dairy operators or sheep/ goat owners. It could also be feed dealers or representatives who simply want to provide the best possible nutrition information to their customers.

There will also be a trade show at the 2009 Tennessee Nutrition Conference. Hold these dates:

Date: March 5, 2009. March 4 is set-up day for the trade exhibits.

Location: James Ward Agricultural Center (Wilson County Fairgrounds) Lebanon, Tennessee

Cost: $95 ($125 if registered by February 16). Δ

Link Directly To: BRANDT

Link Directly To: SYNGENTA