URBANA, ILL.

You may now register for the upcoming University of Illinois Crop Management Conferences. The four two-day regional conferences will address a wide array of topics pertinent to crop production, pest management, and natural resource issues and provide a forum for discussion and interaction between participants and university researchers. Certified Crop Advisers can earn up to 13 hours of CEU credit.

Advance registration, no later than one week ahead, is $130. Registration after that time or on-site is $150. Dates, locations, and contact persons are given below, along with the registration website for each conference (which also has a link to the detailed agenda and directions).
