

Riley Trailer Sales Offers Rigs For Farmers

BERNIE, MO.

Farmers in the midwest are hauling more and more of their grain each year with tractor-trailers than they have in the past. Larry Riley, a farmer and owner of Riley Trailer Sales located at Bernie, Missouri sees tractor-trailers as the way for many farmers to keep their farming operations modern.

Riley began selling the Jet Trailers in 1994 when they saw a need for the shorter grain trailers on his own farm. The only trailer company that we could find that built a trailer to meet all of our qualifications was Jet Trailer Company out of Humboldt, Iowa. After contacting them and discussing their trailers for quite a while, they offered us a dealership.

The Jet Trailer Company is a major manufacturer of steel and aluminum hopper bottom trailers as well as flatbeds, dropdecks, and a variety of other products.

Jet Trailers have been well received throughout the Mid-West and Mid-South. Earlier this year Riley Trailer Sales sold it's 400th Jet Trailer and they currently stock 30 new hopper bottom trailers as well as a few used trailers. They stock more than any other Jet dealer in the region. Δ
